Insight Organization

Who we are:

We are an independent non-profit organization working on monitoring and documenting human rights violations in Syria. Our mission involves collecting information and accurately recording it within dedicated databases, analyzing the data, and presenting it in periodic and thematic reports based on statistics and data analysis. We primarily rely on a network of field correspondents and investigators. Our goal is to uncover human rights violations in Syria, shed light on them, advocate for them, and call for the necessary actions to stop these violations and achieve justice.

Our Vision:

From the standpoint that "justice is the right of all," INSIGHT seeks to support the causes of survivors of violations in Syrian society, especially vulnerable and marginalized groups. Additionally, we aim to promote human rights values, commit to addressing violations fairly and justly, advocate for gender equality, peace, rule of law, and advocate for these issues.

Our Goals:

To amplify the voices of Syrian victims, break their societal vulnerability by sharing their stories, advocate for their issues, and reduce the impunity of perpetrators of violations. We aim to enhance justice and fairness for survivors and victims of the Syrian conflict, with a focus on women and children. We seek to provide legal support to victims to achieve these goals, integrating professionalism and community engagement to protect and promote human rights for individuals and communities alike.

Our Work:

INSIGHT works on documenting human rights violations in Syria within dedicated databases, relying on them to produce thematic reports and case studies. Additionally, we collect stories and testimonies from victims and survivors to advocate for the rights of those affected, seeking justice and accountability. We aim to raise awareness about human rights issues and shed light on violations through regular reports and awareness campaigns. Furthermore, we strive to advocate for positive change by collaborating with other organizations and engaging in political and social initiatives.

- Empowering women, children and men and qualifying them for reintegration into their original communities

  We implemented three projects, targeting two of them for families in Al-Hol , Iraqi section and Al-Jada'ah camps. We empowered women and men to practice crafts to become self-reliant when leaving Al-Hol camp. These professions include hairdressing, sewing, computer skills, and maintenance. In addition to training them on soft skills such as negotiation techniques, communication and adaptation skills.

  In the third project, we targeted women returning from Al-Hol camp in Raqqa and Deir Ezzor (Al-Baghouz) with the aim of reintegrating them into society and combating violent extremism by empowering women in international law and human rights, as well as in gender and gender-based violence. A session was also held on psychological support. At the end of the session, we brought the women together with civil society organizations and local authorities to convey the recommendations of these women and help them overcome the discrimination that is committed against them..
